Flexopack USA, sponsor at the 66th Annual Convention & Suppliers' Showcase of Southwest Meat Association

Southwest Meat Association (SMA) is a leading meat and poultry trade organization representing packers and processors all over the United States.

Flexopack USA, a sponsor of the 66th Annual Convention of SMA, also participated at the Suppliers Showcase (27-30 July 2022), with a stand dedicated to meat packaging, at which we presented our cutting-edge developments in the field of flexible packaging and sustainability.

The visitors had the opportunity to discuss with our specialized colleagues, regarding the best possible solutions for meat packaging, always with a view to obtaining increased shelf life and the optimal sustainability of the packaging.

Flexopack Group is a leading producer of flexible packaging used by major meat and cheese industries globally. Proudly celebrating 40 years of operational excellence, with multiple production facilities and subsidiaries around the world.

With significant presence across the Americas, Europe, Oceania and Asia, Flexopack offers expert advice on providing the best solutions for each customer.
