

Athens, October 2022

4th Flexopack Annual Group Meeting, 30 September – 2 October

This year's Flexopack Annual Meeting was concluded with great success, with participants from both the parent company and all its subsidiaries.

After 3 years of absence due to the pandemic, we had the opportunity to meet old and new colleagues, learn about the company's news and future development plans, as well as share examples of good practices from all the countries where the Flexopack Group operates.

It was a full weekend full of ideas, high spirit, and excellent ambience.

We look forward to welcoming all at our next meeting!

Flexopack Group is a leading producer of flexible packaging used by major meat and cheese industries globally. Proudly celebrating 40 years of operational excellence, with multiple production facilities and subsidiaries around the world.

With significant presence across the Americas, Europe, Oceania and Asia, Flexopack offers expert advice on providing the best solutions for each customer.